From: Cottages on the Greene Architectural Review Board (ARB)

Date: September 13, 2015

After consultation with the City of Foley Building Officials and reviewing the current City of Foley new construction residential building code, which is based on the current version of the International Building Code, your Architectural Review Board (ARB) will accept for review plans for homes (cottages) which are designed with the utilization of 2' x 4' exterior studs. Plans as for homes (cottages) designed with the utilization of 2' x 6' exterior studs will still be accepted.

Due to the requirements of the updated City of Foley building codes, the ARB will no longer be reviewing homes for their engineering design. However, all plans must meet the City of Foley Building Codes.

For your information, attached are copies of the forms the ARB will be using going forward in the review and approval process.
